USARAD HOLDINGS, INC. INCLUDING ITS SECONDOPINIONS.COM® DIVISION, PARTNERS WITH CHUNYU, CHINA'S LEADING MOBILE HEALTH BRAND

Healthcare collaboration to bring world class medical expertise to Chunyu mobile network clients in China utilizing telemedicine, teleradiology and mHealth technology

Fort Lauderdale, Florida – August 10th, 2015 – USARAD Holdings Inc, a leading U.S. Joint Commission Accredited telemedicine and radiology services solutions provider, has signed a key partnership agreement with Chunyu, the largest mobile health platform in China.

This agreement comes at a critical time as China is in the midst of healthcare reform aimed at delivering high-quality healthcare to the Chinese population. Telemedicine, teleradiology and mobile health are viewed as efficient and cost effective methods to provide state-of-the-art healthcare to the nation. To assist China in attaining its vision quickly, Chunyu has partnered with USARAD to bring thousands of American board-certified physicians in all specialties and subspecialties to more than 70 million Chunyu customers at the touch of a finger.

Chunyu has teamed up with USARAD and its SecondOpinions.com® division to enhance their healthcare platform by bundling second opinion medical consultations, subspecialty teleradiology and expert telemedicine services.

"We are honored to partner with USARAD and their vast network of top U.S. board-certified physicians. Without any doubt their innovative offering will make a significant positive impact on the healthcare of our people," said Rui Zhang, Founder and CEO of Chunyu. Michael Yuz, MD, Founder and CEO of USARAD and SecondOpinions.com added, "We are pleased to begin our collaboration with such a progressive company as Chunyu and to assist the company on its important mission of delivering easy access healthcare options in China."

USARAD has recently officially launched its operation in Hong Kong as well as China, opening regional headquarter offices in Shanghai.
