Secondopinions.com on TV

According to a study by John Hopkins diagnostic errors are the number one cause for medical malpractice suits in the United States. Now, there's a new, simple and cost effective way to have your medical diagnosis reviewed in a few hours or less. That's what Miami residents Jenya Titova and her mom found out when they tried SecondOpinions.com. Over the years, mom has had strokes, breast cancer and back injuries. "She does everything right but genetically she has a lot of health conditions," said Jenya.

When a surgeon told Jenya her mother would need shoulder surgery she wanted a second opinion, but didn't want to make an appointment, drive to the doctor's office and wait to be seen. "We didn't have to go anywhere we were able to get it right online."

Dr. Michael Yuz

SecondOpinions.com is a South Florida-based company, started by radiologist and entrepreneur, Dr. Mike Yuz. "The whole idea is to make it simple for people around the globe to get a second opinion," said Yuz. "The advantages are prevention of medical errors, prevention of unnecessary medical procedures, and obviously decreasing healthcare costs which are out of control." "Pushing for second opinions is smart," said Dr. Mehmet Oz. "Doctor in Latin means teacher and if you come to us with questions you can help shape the agenda. Watch the WPLG/ABC story here:

Why do you need a second opinion?

Have you ever watched a medical drama on TV and heard someone say “You should get a second opinion.” While it’s a common phrase in Hollywood, the reality is few of us have ever independently requested a second opinion for a medical condition.

A study that examined 25 years of malpractice payments in the United States found that 40,000-80,000 people die each year from diagnostic errors, obstetric mistakes or improperly delivering medications. Diagnostic errors are the most common, the most costly and the most deadly of all medical errors, according to the study information listed in the National Practitioner Data Bank. Incorrect, missed or delayed diagnoses accounted for 39% of malpractice related deaths.

This is why SecondOpinions.com was created. U.S. board-certified specialists and subspecialists are available 24/7/365 across the globe to study your images and provide you with their advanced second opinion.

You simply upload your MRI, CT, X-Ray, Mammogram, Ultrasound or Nuclear Medicine study and our expert doctors interpret then deliver the results in the privacy of your home or office. No appointments necessary. The prices range from $29.00 - $99.00 per report.

In addition, physicians in all medical fields provide second opinion consultations via telephone and video chat for as low as $49 per 5-minute consultation.

Not only is obtaining a second opinion essential for your health, at SecondOpinions.com the prices are so reasonable they are actually less than many co-payments.
